

Chick Master UK has Moved to New Homes

Chick Master UK has moved to two new locations to offer better service and support to our customers. The factory and distribution operations will be in a new facility in Bridgwater, England just a short distance from our current location. This facility is 2,700 square meters and will be the center of distribution and plant operations for Europe and many other markets. Our Ventilation Group will be moving to its new home in Cricket Malherbie which is approximately 35 minutes south of Bridgwater. This will be the center of our Energy Management Division and General Management of our European operations.

Our main phone lines will stay the same. Look for an announcement and invitation to visit our new facilities this fall so we can show off our homes.
