

RC2

Resonance Calibration Kit

Calibration Simplified

A critical component of all hatchery maintenance programs is setter and hatcher calibration. Incubators must have accurately calibrated sensors to control temperature and humidity (humid conditions inside the incubator can potentially cause sensor accuracy drift). Get the most from your investment by using the new RC2 to calibrate all sensors to the correct reading set point.

Hard Shell Case

- High quality, durable and safeguarded against most kinds of wear and tear
- Portable and lightweight with shoulder straps to make carrying easier
- Provides protection against liquids, moisture and dust

Easy-to-use Android Tablet

- Comes standard with every kit
- Bluetooth enabled
- Lightweight shockproof cover

Rechargeable Battery Unit

- Rechargeable lithium-ion battery included
- Easily accessible and convenient charging cord
- Compatible with all standard Micro-USB plugs

Routine Maintenance Made Easy

- No more long wires connected to probes thru the fascia
- Each probe has its own depth gauge for ease of use
- Simple to set up and operate
- Accurate to 0.1°F (0.06°C)
- Monitors up to 8 temperature readings at one time

Compatible with all Chick Master Controls*

*Ultra, Gen III, Gen IV, Gemic 2, Gemic 3, GEM, ROCK

Chick Master Tips

- Calibrate machines (full of eggs/chicks) every 6 months
Airflow and temperatures inside of FULL machines are much more homogeneous and provide better readings. Calibrations on newly commissioned machines are sufficient until the machines are set full, at which point you should re-calibrate.
- Log your calibrations and maintenance
We encourage good record keeping and maintenance to maximize the efficiency and increase longevity of your machines, and to reduce operational costs.
- Your RC2 must be calibrated once a year
Return your RC2 to Chick Master (or use a local professional calibration company).
